From the Director's Desk....

Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Research and Training Institute (SCSTRTI) is the oldest of all the Tribal Research Institutes (TRI) in the country. The institute in its present nomenclature has witnessed many evolutionary changes during an illustrious journey of 66 years. Started as Tribal Research Bureau (TRB) in 1952 and then rechristened as Tribal and Harijan Research-cum-Training Institute (THRTI) in 1972. In 1994 it was renamed as Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Research and Training Institute. Prior to that, this Institute was conferred with the status of "Heads of Department" by Govt. of Odisha in the year 1980.

The broad objective of this Institute is to carry out empirical studies on various thrust areas pertaining to tribal development, evaluation of various ongoing tribal development programs of both Government of India and Government of Odisha and formulation of perspective plan for tribal development. It also does documentation on various social and cultural issues of tribal culture including monographic studies. One of its priority areas of research has been the ethnic studies of various communities who claim for inclusion in the ST list and submit its recommendations to Government of India through the State Government. Besides, the institute serve as a centre for providing data and advisory services to Government on the problems of the Scheduled Tribes and the Scheduled Castes on a periodic basis and also as and when asked for. This Institute also conducts Training, Seminars & Workshops for different Government and Non-Government functionaries concerned with Tribal Development which includes PRI functionaries belonging to the ST category, Tribal youths, Tribal SHG Members and teachers belonging to the schools which are under the administrative control of the ST & SC Development Department.

SCSTRTI has been conferred the Nodal TRI Status by the Ministry of Tribal Affairs (MoTA), Government of India in 2008-09. In 2014, this Institute was recognized as a National Resource Centre by MoTA, GoI for matters relating to implementation of FRA. The key objective of the NRC is to function as the "National Knowledge Hub and Technical Arm of MoTA" to address the capacity and knowledge gap in tribal development and implementing FRA. Considering the outstanding contributions of this Institute in various fields of activities, the Ministry of Tribal Affairs (MoTA), Government of India has approved the institution of setting up of National Tribal Research Center (NTRC) as an autonomous entity within this Institute in 2016. Registration of this NTRC has been done in the mean time and all efforts are on to make this functional.

SCSTRTI has collaborations with various research and national and international organizations and has been working in a number of projects for the past three decades. Some of the notable organizations with which this institute has collaborations are UNICEF, UNDP, UNFPA, DFID, World Bank, UNESCO, IGRMS Bhopal and so on. This institute also provides technical support and advisory support to a large number of TRIs and also other research institutions as and when asked for on a host of issues pertaining to tribal development.

This Institute, inside its campus houses Tribal Museum of Art & Artefacts, PVTG Gallery, Replicas of Tribal houses, Library with rich stocks of books & journals and reading room facility, Tribal food court and a Souvenir shop. The exhibit of the Tribal Museum has excellent collections of more than 3500 rare and exotic tribal arts, crafts and artefacts, which are artistic indicating different ingredients of cultural interests. The mission of the Museum helps support the conservation of tribal material culture and its changing facet refers to various activities like documentation and live demonstration by tribal artists and craftsmen, Skill development programme, National Tribal Craft Mela and National Tribal Dance Festival etc.

I am delighted to note that an attempt has been made through this publication to bring the multi dimensional activities of this Institute into limelight which must draw the attention of stake holders to associate themselves with the Institute in many ways.

BACKGROUND & HISTORY

A. BACKGROUND

The state of Odisha has 62 ethnic groups enlisted as the "Scheduled Tribes", 91ethnic groups as the "Scheduled Castes" and more than 100 ethnic groups including religious groups, like the Christian, Muslim, Buddhist, Sikh, Jain etc. styled as "Other Castes" spread across the length and breadth of the state.

Among them the Scheduled Tribes (ST) and Scheduled Castes (SC) constitute a sizeable chunk of the population of the State. Only next to M.P and Maharashtra this state consists of the largest tribal population in the country. While as per 2011 Census, the Scheduled Tribe communities numbering 95, 90, 756 persons account for 22.85% of the total population of the state and 9.17% of the total tribal population of the country, the Scheduled Caste communities numbering 71, 88, 463 persons account for 17.13% of the total population of the state and 3.57% of the total SC population of the country. Thus the Scheduled Tribes (ST) and Scheduled Castes (SC) constitute 40% of the total population of the state.

The tribal people of Odisha express their cultural identity and distinctiveness in their social organization, language, demography, rituals and festivals and also in their dress, ornaments, art, crafts and other folk traditions. Each tribal community has distinctive characteristic features reflected in their social, economic, political and religious sub-systems. Each possesses its own unique culture which differentiates one from the other.

Since the good old days, the Scheduled Castes have remained an integral part of the society in the state of Odisha. Most of them live in rural areas and social discrimination as well as economic exploitation remains their most acute problem. They also suffer from rigid caste based hierarchy among themselves.

In the pre-independent times, the STs and SCs were neglected and discriminated for which they suffered from backwardness and deprivation. After independence their plight was duly considered by the democratic welfare state and special provisions and safeguards were made in the constitution of India in their favour. By the policy of reservation in independent India, the "Scheduled Castes" and "Scheduled Tribes" now enjoy a special Constitutional status that entitles them to several benefits of protection, promotion, welfare and development. These benefits are being ensured by a host of legislation, policies and programmes, which have been implemented in the fields of education, employment, public representation, socio-economic discrimination and exploitation. The special provisions and safeguards incorporated in the Constitution of India for the Backward Classes, especially for the SCs and STs, are meant to ensure their systematic and faster development and also to protect them against all forms of injustice and exploitation.

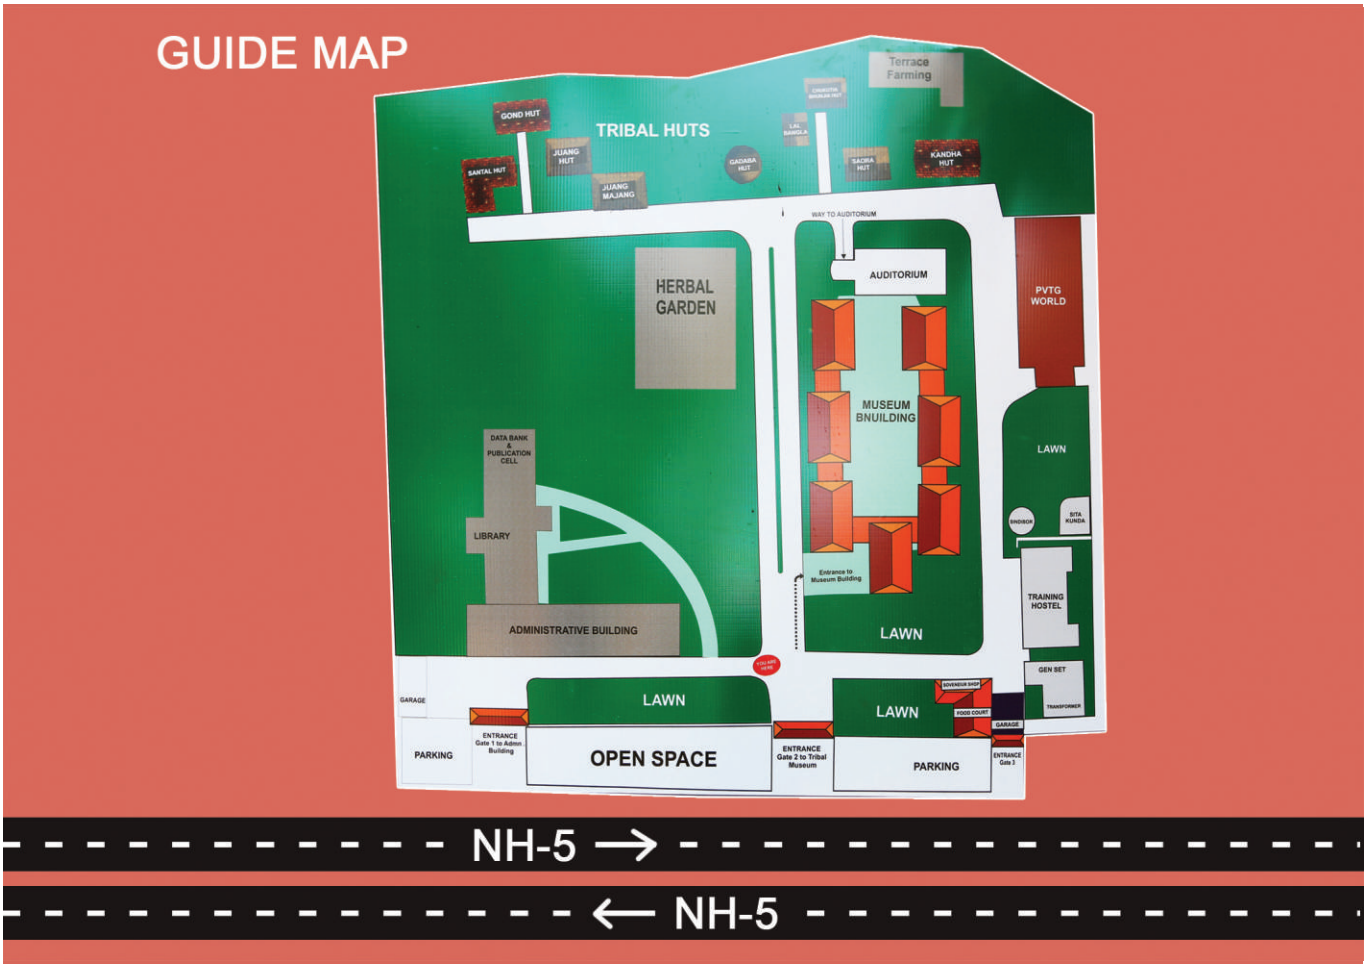
After adoption of Indian Constitution in 1950, the Union Government decided to set up Tribal Research Institutes (TRI) in tribal dominated states to conduct research and HRD programmes for documentation and dissemination of pristine tribal and dalit cultures, study their problems and provide data and advisory services for their welfare and development. Then the first TRI of the country took birth in the State of Odisha.



B. HISTORY OF THE INSTITUTE: BIRTH, GROWTH & DEVELOPMENT

Christened as Tribal Research Bureau (TRB), the present SCSTRTI Bhubaneswar, was set up on July 8, 1952. It started as a Semi-Official Body with two Research Scholars who worked under the guidance of Dr. Dutta-Mazumdar, a distinguished Anthropologist, the then Deputy Secretary to Government, Commerce and Labour Department. As a constitutional obligation under Article 164 on July 13, 1953, vide Government Resolution No.576/TRW dated 14.7.1953, a Semi-Official Body was constituted formally with the following:

1. Minister, Tribal & Rural Welfare, Chairman
2. Dr. Dutta-Mazumdar, Dy Secretary, Commerce & Labour Dept. Secretary
3. Professor Nirmal Kumar Bose, Calcutta University, Member
4. Srimati Malati Chowdhury, eminent Social Worker, Angul, Member
5. Shri P.C. Bhanj Deo, Member, Council of State, Member
6. Nityananda Patnaik and Lakshman Kumar Mahapatra, Research Scholars having M.Sc./M.A. degree in Anthropology, Members

The main objective of setting up the Institute was to conduct studies on the problems of the tribal communities of Odisha and to serve as a centre for providing data and advisory services to Government on the problems of the Scheduled Tribes and the Scheduled Castes.

In 1955, the TRB attained the official status of a Bureau with the appointment of one anthropologist as Assistant Director of Research and the Secretary of the Tribal & Rural Welfare Department functioning as the Ex-Officio Director. The Research Scholars were re-designated later as Research Officers.

In 1960, the Bureau was constituted as a separate unit under the administrative and technical management of the Assistant Director (Research) subject to the general control and supervision of the Ex-Officio

Director and it functioned in an office building of its own located in between the State Museum and BJB College. The technical and non-technical staff of the Bureau got considerably strengthened to cope up with its expanded activities.

In 1961 close relationship with the Department of Anthropology, Utkal University was established with the appointment of Dr. A. Aiyappan, Professor of Anthropology as the Honorary Director of the Bureau who was later re-designated as Honorary Advisor of TRB. As per the recommendation of the TRB Advisory Board under the Chairmanship of the Chief Minister, Odisha, a post of Deputy Director (Research) was created in 1963 and the Government gradually adopted the policy of according the Bureau the status of a full-fledged Directorate.

After the recommendations of Dhebar Commission were made available, the scope of the Bureau was further expanded to cope up with the changing situations and 3 posts of Research Assistants and 14 posts of Investigators were created and filled up in 1964. As it was needed for further enhancement of staff due to increased workload another Assistant Director, 2 Research Officers, 1 Junior Statistician, 4 Research Assistants, 8 Investigators, 4 Tabulators and other clerical and class-IV staff were recruited.

To expand its activities to the core tribal area of the state i.e., the erstwhile 3 districts namely Phulbani, Koraput and Ganjam, the second centre of TRB started functioning at Phulbani in 1965. The Bureau at Phulbani functioned for little more than a year and after the Assistant Director of the Bureau was promoted and appointed as the Principal, Tribal Orientation Training Centre at Machhkund in Koraput district, it was shifted to Bhubaneswar and both centers were merged into one vide letter No. TRB 12/66-14556/TRW dated 24.6.67.

Later it was decided to integrate the Tribal Research Bureau and Tribal Orientation Training Centre shifted from Machhkund to Bhubaneswar under a technically qualified Deputy Director at Bhubaneswar, and finally they were amalgamated vide Resolution No. 23674/TRW dated 10.10.1972, and Tribal and Harijan Research-cum-Training Institute (THRTI) came into being. Dr. N. Patnaik, an anthropologist, joined as the first regular Director of this Institute on 6.5.1976 vide notification No. 15137/TRW Dated 6.5.1976. By that time while the THRTI's Research Wing functioned in the BJB College area, its Training Wing functioned in a new building built in a 12+ Acre plot located besides the National Highway in CRPF Square of Nayapali area of Bhubaneswar.

The burgeoning activities under the auspices of the tribal development programmes in Fifth Five Year Plan increased the responsibility of the Institute which led to its exponential growth. Vide Government Resolution No.21634/TRW dated 5.8.1978, the entire TSP area of the State of Odisha was covered under 6 zones and the research staff of the Institute were posted at Zonal headquarters, viz. Baliguda, Jeypore, Gunupur, Sundargarh, Keonjhar and Baripada to conduct the Universal Bench Mark Survey (UBMS). Besides, the research staff of THRTI undertook studies on Regional Planning and took up Evaluation and Monitoring of Development Schemes (vide Government Resolution No. 21634/ TRW dated 5.8.1978). Later, in 1981 the research staff was withdrawn to the headquarters at Bhubaneswar to undertake the tabulation of UBMS data and other important assignments relating to tribal development under the newly introduced Tribal Sub-Plan (TSP) Approach.

By this time, the State Government has conferred the powers of "the Heads of Department" to its Director in 1980. In 1986, the Research Wing of the Institute was shifted to its Training Wing in CRPF Square and both the wings functioned together under the Director, Dr. N. Patnaik.

Consequent upon the instructions issued by Ministry of Welfare, Government of India, in their D.O. No.12025/14/90-SCD (R/Cell), dated 16.8.1990, communicated vide Notification No. 38125/W, dated 31.12.1994 of Welfare Department of Orissa, Tribal and Harijan Research-cum-Training Institute (THRTI) was renamed as Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Research and Training Institute (SCSTRTI).

Key Objectives of the Institute

II PRESENT STATUS

SCSTRTI (a Directorate) is a permanent Institution under the administrative control of ST&SC Development Department of Government of Odisha. Being one of the premier institutes of the country devoted to research and training on tribal matters, their cultures and development; it has grown into greater heights over period of time.

Its Administrative building is supported by a library, training hostel, statistical cell, publication & sale center, seven replicas of tribal huts (Santal, Juang, Saora, Gadaba, Kondh, Gond and Chuktia Bhunjia), "Museum of Man" - a Museum of Tribal Art and Craft set up in the year 2001 added with a P.T.G. Gallery in 2013 and a Tribal Souvenir Shop & Tribal Food Court established in 2014.

Administration:

The Institute boasts of technically qualified research staff. The Director of the Institute enjoys the powers of Heads of the Department. At present a Professor of Anthropology who is also an officer of Indian Administrative Service is heading the Institute as its Director. Besides, there are two Deputy Directors (one vacant), five Assistant Directors (10 vacant), five Research Assistants, (06 vacant), three Statistical Assistants (12 vacant), three Primary Investigators (02 vacant), two Librarians, one Senior Laboratory Assistant (Tribal Museum) and twenty three supporting staff (27 Vacant) of different categories like 11 Ministerial Staff (07 vacant), one Driver (01 vacant), 01 Treasury Sarkar and 14 Group-D staff (15 vacant) etc. To assist the Director in day-to-day administration a retired officer of Odisha Administrative Service (OAS) has been posted as Assistant Director (Administration) in the Institute. Till date out of 109 sanctioned posts 59 i.e., more than 50 percent of posts are vacant. The essential multifarious activities of the Institute are being managed by engaging few experts and experienced retired officers on contractual basis.

The merit and expertise of various officers of this Institute have been recognized by other organizations. Officers have been deputed to different organizations inside the State Government and Government of India, such as, Commission for Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes,

Ministry of Tribal Affairs, Government of India, ST & SC Development Department, Government of Orissa, Micro Projects for Primitive Tribes, ITDAs, IFAD Projects, Re-settlement and Rehabilitation Projects, etc. Futher, their expertise as ethnic status experts have been recognized and sought for within the State Administration for dealing with the cases of Fake Caste Certificates.

The institute's role and importance in the field of determination of Ethnic Status of various communities for the purpose of their inclusion/non-inclusion in the ST or SC List of the state is recognized because of its long years of experience and expertise. Therefore it's Director, OSD/Deputy Director/ Research Officer have been taken as expert members in the State Level Scrutiny Committee (SLSC) constituted in pursuance of the Judgment of Hon'ble Supreme Court dated 02.9.1994 in the case of Kumari Madhuri Patil and others-Vrs-Additional Commissioner, Tribal Development, Maharashtra and others to decide upon hundreds of cases of alleged fake caste certificates. While doing so, it prepares model guidelines and check lists for collection of relevant information and conducts Orientation Training Programmes for concerned district level officers for conducting investigation in to the cases of alleged fake caste certificates. Till date it has played an active role in conducting many such programmes in Cuttack, Phulbani, Bolangir, Sambalpur and Sonepur districts.

A Nodal TRI of India

In 2008-09, this Institute has been conferred the Nodal TRI Status by the Ministry of Tribal Affairs (MOTA), Government of India (GOI). Four TRIs of the Country belonging to the States/UT like West Bengal, Andhra, Jharkhand and Andaman & Nicobar are the Link TRIs under this Institute.

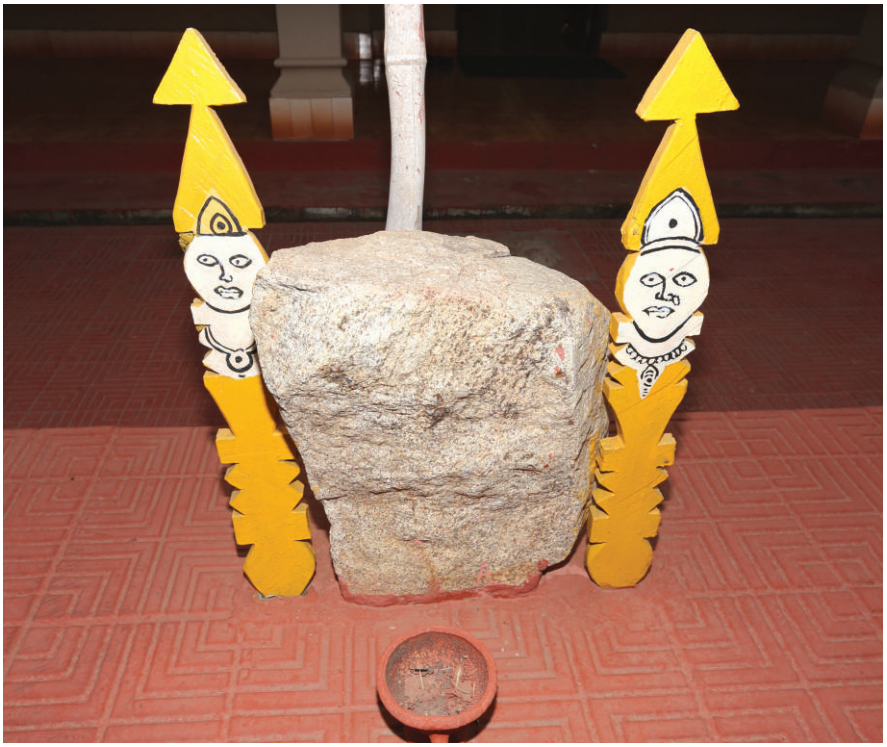
Tribal Shrine Crafts

Sacred Arena of Spiritual World

All tribals seem to be craftsmen by nature and need. The skilled hands of tribal sculptors of Odisha, like, Bhumia, Bhottada, Dhurua, Kandha, Saora, Santal, etc. and Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups, namely Dongria Kandha, Juang, Lanjia Saora have contributed their precious lot for creation of the Shrine Crafts in the Museum. The open air sacred complex of the Museum has been gifted with the replicas of tribal Shrine Crafts and there are 14 such tribal deities enshrined. The display of Shrine Crafts spells tribal reliqion and rituals. All these reflect the tribals supernatural beliefs and their world of religion. The special appearance of Saora shrine crafts, like Mandua Sum, Jananglo Sum and Dongria Kandha, shrine crafts like Koteyuwali, Meriah post and Kodrumunda displayed on the open air platforms inside the Museum gives premise a divine touch.



Gadaba House (Chhendi Dien)

The typical circular shaped house of the Gadaba of Malkangiri district truly reflects their ancient cultural heritage. The Gadaba house (Chhendi Dien) stands before the Sadar-the village meeting place. It is cylindrical in shape with a conical roof supported by a central sal post. Wall are coloured with mud. The house has three sections. The bigger room serves the purpose of common room for family. The other small rooms are used as kitchen and deity room. The wooden cutting inside serves to store grains and personal belongings.

Heritage of Tribal Habitats

Under the Museum of Mankind the Tribal habitat section of the museum comprises the replicas of five Houses of Tribes, like Santal, Juang, Gadaba, Saora and Kandha. Each of these is built along with their shrine crafts, arts and artifacts, and household appliances so as to imagine the entireness of the habitat in its physical settings. The 'Museum of Mankind' was inaugurated in July 1986. It provides an opportunity to the tribal lovers of India and abroad to be acquainted with the life style and material culture of the tribes through visiting their houses in the village settings. A rich collection of varieties of artifacts, crafts and art objects belonging to the five tribes are displayed in the respective tribal houses as per their perception, prescription and practice, confirming to their own genius.

Saora House (Sing)

Saora, a Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Group of Odisha, are largely found in districts of Gajapati, Ganjam, Kalahandi, Balasore, etc. The regular Saora house is rectangular at base thatched with wild grass. The house is painted with red mud. It has long and high verandah at both side of entrance. The importance of the Saora hut lies with its wall paintings- Idital, which is considered very sacred and ofTanger Sum and Gosada Sum, are the watch Gods of the Saora family and village respectively. Tanger Sum wards off evil spirits and works for the social and economic well-being of the people.

Santal House (Olah)

The Santal are mainly concentrated in Mayurbhanj and adjoining Keonjhar district. The Santal hut (Olah) stands a little away from the Jahera Era - the sacred sal grove of a typical Santal village. Their house built on a rectangular or 'L' shaped ground plan and thatched with straw or naria tiles is very attractive with spectacular multicolored wall paintings and drawings. One can find colourful paintings of nature on the outer wall of the house. The main room has two sections. Smaller section serves as granary and deity room whereas the bigger section is a common room used for various purposes. There is a separate room for keeping the cattle, goats and agricultural implements. It is also used for doing routine household chores.

Juang House (Inza)

The Juang of Keonjhar district is a Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Group. Conspicuous at the center of a Juang village is the Mandaghar, the hub of community life, a traditional council, a rest shed and a sleeping place for bachelors. The replica of Juang Mandaghar (Bachelors Dormitory) stands before the dancing arena. One may also find colourful wall painting at the outside walls. The verandah at the front provides ample space for smooth performance the household activities. At the corner of the dancing arena there is an upright piece of stone representing Grama siri fixed on the ground nearby is a carved wooden pole fixed to the ground, which serves as the 'Chheda Katha' (sacrifice post). The Youth dormitory is a kind of social school for the unmarried youth. Where an elderly man using the drum beat sing songs narrating stories of their ancestors.

PVTG WORLD

A Gallery for Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups of Odisha

The state of Odisha is credited with the distinction of having the largest number of PVTGs among all the States and Union Territories of the Country. To be specific, in India there are as many as 75 PVTGs, of them 13 PVTGs are found in Odisha namely, Bonda, Birhor, Chuktia Bhunjia, Didayi, Dongria Kandha, Hill Khadia, Juang, Kutia Kandha, Lanjia Saora, Lodha, Mankirdia, Paudi Bhuyan and Saora. They live in their remote mountainous habitats in a state of relative isolation - that has helped them to preserve their cultural identities manifested in their diverse languages, unique style of personal adornments, subsistence activities, magico-religious beliefs and practices, social organization and colourful folk traditions of arts, crafts, songs, dances and music.

Considering the rapidly changing scenario of the present times in which many ethnic groups are undergoing transformation towards modernity it was felt necessary to showcase the life and culture of the colourful Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups (PTGs), previously called as Primitive Tribal Groups of Odisha through replicas, documentary films and inter active kiosk in the newly built PVTG Gallery inside the campus.

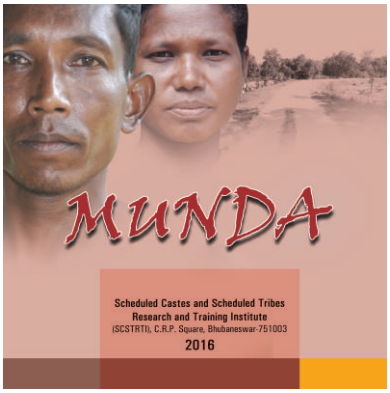
LIBRARY

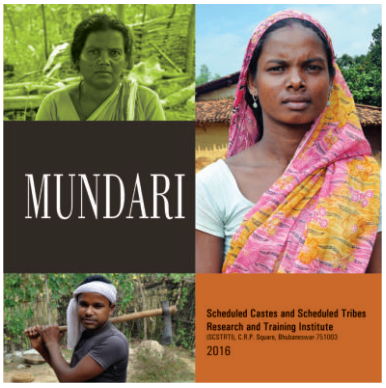
The Institute has a library of its own since inception. This is the best Anthropological Library in the State. The specialty of the library lies in its unique collection of rare and useful publications in subjects like Anthropology and Sociology besides other disciplines, which attracts a large number of scholars from outside. It is functioning in its newly constructed three storied building since 2008. Now it contains more than 21,487 books, journals and research reports. In brief by the year 2016 it has-

- 19,179 books
- 1118 research reports
- 20 E. Documents
- 1100 Bound Journals
- Facility to access library for researchers
- Exclusive A.C Reading Room

With the substitution of the closed-door almirahs with open shelves in the top floor of the building, the library has become fully accessible for the readers. The library has been fully computerized and it is now connected to all the research personnel of the institute through LAN by installing server.

PUBLICATIONS





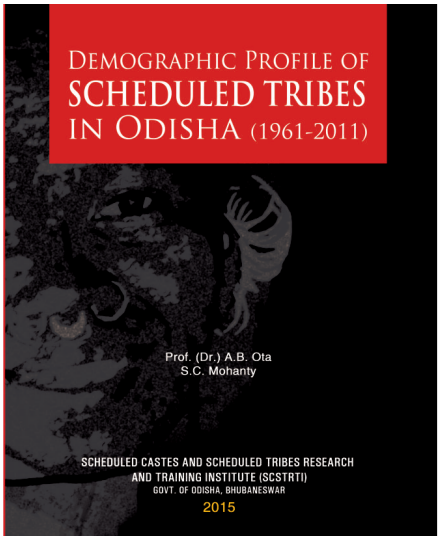
Publication of books, reports and journal is one of the important activities of the Institute for dissemination of information on various aspects of STs & SCs. Till the year 2016, it has published 101 books (excluding few books those are out of stock) comprising monographs and popular literature, development handbooks, photo handbooks, action plans, information brochures, book-lets and data sheet etc. on SCs and STs. These publications are based on research work undertaken by the Institute.

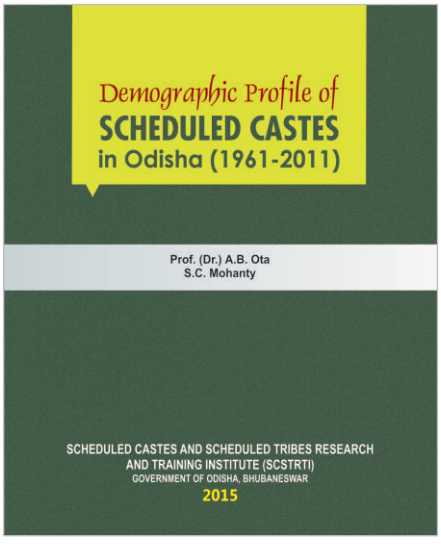
Besides, it publishes the Annual Reports and other reports of the Administrative Department, ITDAs and Micro Projects.

The Institute brings out regular issues of its half-yearly research journal, ADIVASI containing articles on various aspects of STs and SCs. Last year (2016) its 55th volume has been published.

The Institute also publishes a News Letter bi-annually speaking about various important activities and events.

The list of the Institute's publications up to March, 2016 is furnished in Annexure4.





Data Bank & Statistical Cell

The Institute has a computerized Data Bank and Statistical Cell containing computerized Universal Bench-Mark Survey Data. The Statistical Cell compiles relevant data on ST & SC communities from Census and other sources. The data bank is useful for researchers of the Institute as well as for outside scholars, Government departments and other agencies. In brief it has -

- Computerized Universal Bench Mark Survey (UBMS) data of STs of TSP area of the State.
- Statistical Data on SC and ST communities of the State
- Sectoral data on ST and SC communities of the State
